Stories are the essence of ... oh no, no, no

Except for writers who destroy their own stories.

Also audiences. g

Basic word of mouth.

And critics. g

And other, better stories g.

Character assassination works too.

Algorithms are everywhere:

(Sir Terry) Pratchett's Narrativium

"The most common element on the disc, although not included in the list of the standard five: earth, fire, air, water and surprise. It ensures that everything runs properly as a story."

"A little narrativium goes a long way: the simpler the story, the better you understand it. Storytelling is the opposite of reductionism: 26 letters and some rules of grammar are no story at all."

"Heroes only win when outnumbered, and things which have a one-in-a-million chance of succeeding often do so."

Simple Definitions:

Story: a laying out of a temporal sequence of events.

"Time is a great storyteller" (Irish proverb)

Events may be any balance of real and imagined.

Narrative ≡ Story.

Plot: Essential sequence of a story's elements.¹

Plot = Algorithm

Why adjacent narratives exist and untrue stories flourish:

1/4. A real story is never recorded and retold completely

- 🌀 Impossible to record every detail.
- 🌀 Recording entails compression to scale of medium (narrative hierarchy).
- 🌀 Story logic will be favored, and seemingly irrelevant aspects discarded.

From the end of the interview:

NICOLAS HENIN: No, it was just like in a movie. And, by the way, even the people going to Syria, joining ISIS in Syria to fight, even these people see himself as movie characters. They play their own movie. This is why I think that the most powerful way to fight ISIS are not bombs. It is to kill the narrative. We have to write another movie. We have to build other heroes. And this is why I believe that the French are making big mistakes in the ways they, they fight ISIS.

We created, for instance, accounts on the social media named "Stop Jihadism," and this is [BLEEP], like they did not understand anything. And I did understand why we are so bad. It's just because in France we don't know how to write TV series properly.

[BROOKE LAUGHS]

Just because we have no imagination, we cannot just tell beautiful stories, create beautiful characters, beautiful heroes.

And this is what we have to do because in our world, in our societies what do people want? They want to become heroes. They want to be famous. They want to be, to be recognized.

Stories make us do all kinds of things:

If not Trump, what? David Brooks, New York Times, 2016-04-29:

"We'll probably need a new national story. Up until now, America's story has been some version of the rags-to-riches story, the lone individual who rises from the bottom through pluck and work. But that story isn't working for people anymore, especially for people who think the system is rigged."

"I don't know what the new national story will be, but maybe it will be less individualistic and more redemptive. Maybe it will be a story about communities that heal those who suffer from addiction, broken homes, trauma, prison and loss, a story of those who triumph over the isolation, social instability and dislocation so common today."
